6 EASY STEPS TO YOUR DREAM KITCHEN

STEP 1

What is your need?

Family Size

This is one of the most important criteria to plan your kitchen. A small family with just husband & a wife can go with a straight lined kitchen with limited storage as per requirement. However, always keep in mind, your family may extend in the future. A medium family of 4 can plan a "L" shaped or a "parallel line" kitchen depending on the space available. A joint family should ensure a "U" shaped kitchen, as it allows enough space for free movement in the kitchen. Plan your storage requirements also accordingly.

(Diagrammatic representation & explanation of the straight lined, "L" shaped & "U" shaped kitchen is shown on page 12)

Budget

To fulfill all your aspirations within a limited budget requires an expert's assistance. At HomeTown we plan your kitchen within your budget while keeping your aspirations intact.

Time

Time is the essence of everything. At HomeTown we value your time and promise to get your dream kitchen ready within a reasonable time frame.

STEP 2

Choose your Cabinets

Combination of base, wall & column units constitute total storage. Handpick your choice of cabinets, ranging from basic shelving units to organised drawer systems. Our kitchens team would make your choice effective by explaining the benefits of each cabinet keeping your need & working style in mind. Remember to strike a balance between shelving & drawer systems. Avoid duplicating choice of cabinets unless its vital, because duplication leads to monotony in usage.

STEP 3

Choose the material & finish for your cabinets

Number of members in the family, single or multiple users of kitchen, type of utensils & volume of storage, determine the material you wish to select for your kitchen. Choice of material directly influences life of your kitchen cabinets. Feel free to know the facts of our material & finish platter from our designers.

4

Plan your kitchen layout

HomeTown kitchen team uses 3-C principle to help plan your kitchen. The 3-C principle basically denotes cooking (Hob), cleaning (Sink), cooling (Refrigerator). These are considered to be 3 vertices of a triangle, where the sum of distances of all three vertices put together should ideally be 20 feet. If its more, then your work area within the kitchen is spread out and if its less, then your work area are too close for comfort.

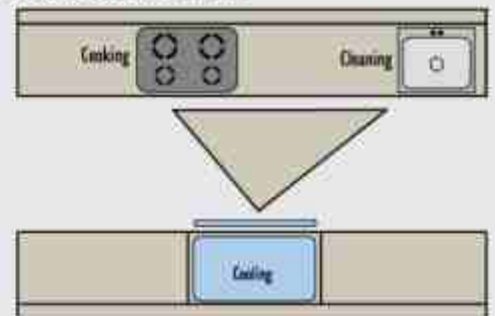

STRAIGHT LINE KITCHEN

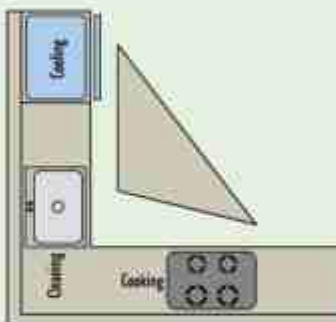

This design has all its work sections along one wall. It is not very best option, but it can be necessary in smaller homes.

PARALLEL KITCHEN

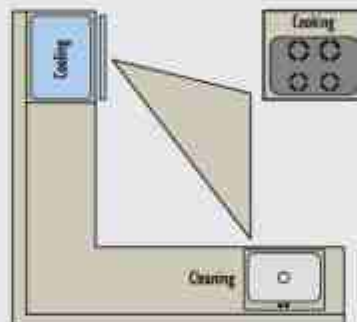

This design helps families with one person cooking always. In case of multiple people cooking then this design may result in getting in each others way.

L SHAPED KITCHEN

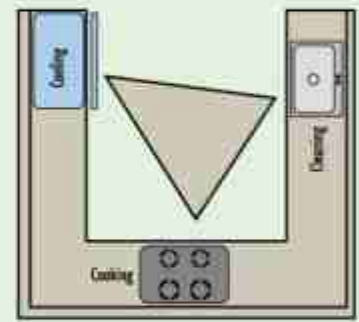

Most prevalent and ergonomic design where work sections are on adjacent platform continuous in nature. One can get in and get out of the kitchen without disturbing the person involved in cooking activity.

L SHAPED KITCHEN WITH ISLAND

Provides more cooking, preparation and storage space. It can be coupled as a casual dining area just by adding bar stools. Enables multifunction like cooking, cleaning and eating together at one point of time.

U SHAPED KITCHEN

Offers lavish storage space both on base & wall. To avoid a closed space around you, one can create a window through internal wall and make it as a serving space leading to adjacent dining area.

STEP 5

View your kitchen in 3-D

Our designers can show you a 3-D CAD (Computer Aided Design) drawing of what your new kitchen will look like, including all the features you've specified. As you and your designer get to know each other you'll become a great team with just one goal in mind, building your ultimate kitchen! And rest assured, the results will be fantastic.

- Render colour & texture of your choice
- Change profiles and finishes of cabinet fascia
- Add utilities & appliances appropriately
- Change wall, countertop & wall tile colours
- Change intensity of light as per room setup
- Zoom in / out, pan left / right for a better view of your kitchen

ENSURE THE LONG LIFE OF YOUR KITCHEN BY FOLLOWING THESE SIMPLE DOS & DONTS:

DO'S ✓

Wipe / Clean your cabinets with a dry cloth.

Use mild cleaning solutions for cleaning glass shelves / glass shutters.

For stubborn stains, use cloth dampened with mild non – alkaline soap. Use another soft cloth to dry.

Ensure all doors & drawers are fully closed before you leave kitchen. Moisture, dust and crawling creatures can penetrate your cabinets anytime.

Periodically, clean all hardware joints and surfaces and the surrounding area with a clean soft cloth.

Areas around the sink, dishwasher, oven, baseboards are the susceptible to excess moisture; wipe up spills and watermarks as they occur.

DONT'S ✗

Don't allow water, chemicals, food spills to set on your cabinets.

Don't spray glass cleaner directly onto glass. Spray it on soft cloth, and then wipe the glass.

Never use abrasive cleaners, scouring pads, dishcloth to wipe your cabinet exterior, since it may contain remnants of grease or detergent.

Don't lean or hang on open doors or drawers fronts.

Avoid the contact / impact of sharp objects on shutters.

Don't overload the cabinets & exceeding the prescribed weight carrying capacity for each cabinet or drawers.

A REAL KITCHEN MAKEOVER STORY

HomeTown transforms a regular builder-provided shell kitchen into a smart modular kitchen.

Mrs. Simran Patel had moved into a new apartment and came to HomeTown for an intelligent and hardworking kitchen design. Her kitchen typically stocked the annual requirement of food grains in advance and also used a huge amount of utensils. In her old house, she had already suffered many years of pain from every day bending and pulling out the heavy boxes of stored grains kept in deep cabinets below the platform, also keeping the utensils out on display on shelves was a sore eye.

Thus, there was a need for a stylish kitchen with high storage capacity & convenience to make the cooking, storage & cleaning easy. Briefed budget for the project was Rs.2,50,000. The HomeTown kitchen's team along with the Design & Build team designed a modular kitchen that can be very well called the "Smart new age kitchen".

This kitchen has cabinets to suit her specific storage requirements, with in-built kitchen accessories like hob, chimney etc. The pull-out trolleys & other accessories were well accommodated to give hassle free functionalities.
